Rhonda Gibson is the owner of IN-1-PLACE Event Center and CO-Owner of Gibson Carpentry Service here in Spartanburg. She is married to Darren Gibson of Georgetown, SC and they have two daughters Danielle and Dominique. Rhonda is a graduate of Broome High School and a graduate of Columbia Jr. College where she earned her Associate Degree in Computers Office Technology. Rhonda and her family are members of Vanguard Community Church here in Spartanburg.

“I want to work in the arts because I think this is something that all children need to be involved in. It’s a great place where the adults and children can come and enjoy different events. I have always had my girls in dance, music, and drama classes since they were 4yrs old. To be a part of this for me is normal and something that I like. I look forward to being a part of The Chapman Culture Center.”
